IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

Ms. WARREN (for herself, Mr. MCCAIN, Ms. CANTWELL, and Mr. KING) introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To reduce risks to the financial system by limiting banks' ability to engage in certain risky activities and limiting conflicts of interest, to reinstate certain Glass-Steagall Act protections that were repealed by the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the "21st Century Glass-5 Steagall Act of 2013".

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

7 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

1           (1) in response to a financial crisis and the en-
2           suing Great Depression, Congress enacted the Bank-
3           ing Act of 1933, known as the “Glass-Steagall Act”, 4           to prohibit commercial banks from offering invest-
5           ment banking and insurance services;

6           (2) a series of deregulatory decisions by the 7           Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
8           and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, 9           in addition to decisions by Federal courts, permitted 10          commercial banks to engage in an increasing num-11          ber of risky financial activities that had previously 12          been restricted under the Glass-Steagall Act, and 13          also vastly expanded the meaning of the “business of 14          banking” and “closely related activities” in banking 15          law;

16          (3) in 1999, Congress enacted the “Gramm-17          Leach-Bliley Act”, which repealed the Glass-Steagall
18          Act separation between commercial and investment 19          banking and allowed for complex cross-subsidies and 20          interconnections between commercial and investment 21          banks;

22          (4) former Kansas City Federal Reserve Presi-
23          dent Thomas Hoenig observed that “with the elimi-24          nation of Glass-Steagall, the largest institutions with 25          the greatest ability to leverage their balance sheets

1 increased their risk profile by getting into trading,
2 market making, and hedge fund activities, adding 3 ever greater complexity to their balance sheets.”;

4 (5) the Financial Crisis Inquiry Report issued
5 by the Financial Crisis Inquiry Commission con-6 cluded that, in the years between the passage of 7 Gramm-Leach Bliley and the global financial crisis, 8 “regulation and supervision of traditional banking 9 had been weakened significantly, allowing commer-
10 cial banks and thrifts to operate with fewer con-11 straints and to engage in a wider range of financial 12 activities, including activities in the shadow banking 13 system.” The Commission also concluded that 14 “[t]his deregulation made the financial system espe-
15 cially vulnerable to the financial crisis and exacer-16 bated its effects.”;

17 (6) a report by the Financial Stability Over-18 sight Council pursuant to section 123 of the Dodd-
19 Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection 20 Act states that increased complexity and diversity of 21 financial activities at financial institutions may 22 “shift institutions towards more risk-taking, increase 23 the level of interconnectedness among financial 24 firms, and therefore may increase systemic default 25 risk. These potential costs may be exacerbated in

1 cases where the market perceives diverse and com-2 plex financial institutions as ‘too big to fail,’ which 3 may lead to excessive risk taking and concerns about 4 moral hazard.”;

5 (7) the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on In-
6 vestigations report, “Wall Street and the Financial 7 Crisis: Anatomy of a Financial Collapse”, states that 8 repeal of Glass-Steagall “made it more difficult for 9 regulators to distinguish between activities intended
10 to benefit customers versus the financial institution 11 itself. The expanded set of financial services invest-12 ment banks were allowed to offer also contributed to 13 the multiple and significant conflicts of interest that 14 arose between some investment banks and their cli-15 ents during the financial crisis.”;

16 (8) the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on In-17 vestigations report, “JPMorgan Chase Whale 18 Trades: A Case History of Derivatives Risks and 19 Abuses”, describes how traders at JPMorgan Chase 20 made risky bets using excess deposits that were 21 partly insured by the Federal Government;

22 (9) in Europe, the Vickers Independent Com-23 mission on Banking (for the United Kingdom) and 24 the Liikanen Report (for the Euro area) have both 25 found that there is no inherent reason to bundle “re-

1 tail banking” with “investment banking” or other 2 forms of relatively high risk securities trading, and 3 European countries are set on a path of separating 4 various activities that are currently bundled together
5 in the business of banking;

6 (10) private sector actors prefer having access
7 to underpriced public sector insurance, whether ex-8 plicit (for insured deposits) or implicit (for “too big 9 to fail” financial institutions), to subsidize dan-10 gerous levels of risk-taking, which, from a broader 11 social perspective, is not an advantageous arrange-12 ment; and

13 (11) the financial crisis, and the regulatory re-14 sponse to the crisis, has led to more mergers be-15 tween financial institutions, creating greater finan-
16 cial sector consolidation and increasing the domi-
17 nance of a few large, complex financial institutions
18 that are generally considered to be “too big to fail”, 19 and therefore are perceived by the markets as hav-
20 ing an implicit guarantee from the Federal Govern-21 ment to bail them out in the event of their failure.

22 (b) PURPOSE.—The purposes of this Act are—

23 (1) to reduce risks to the financial system by 24 limiting banks’ ability to engage in activities other 25 than socially valuable core banking activities;

1           (2) to protect taxpayers and reduce moral haz-
2           ard by removing explicit and implicit government 3           guarantees for high-risk activities outside of the core 4           business of banking; and

5           (3) to eliminate conflicts of interest that arise 6           from banks engaging in activities from which their 7           profits are earned at the expense of their customers 8           or clients.

9   SEC. 3. SAFE AND SOUND BANKING.

10          (a) INSURED DEPOSITORY INSTITUTIONS.—Section 11   18(s) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C.
12   1828(s)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

13                 “(6) LIMITATIONS ON BANKING AFFILI-
14                 ATIONS.—

15                         “(A) PROHIBITION ON AFFILIATIONS WITH 16                         NONDEPOSITORY ENTITIES.—An insured depos-17                         itory institution may not—

18                                 “(i) be or become an affiliate of any 19                                 insurance company, securities entity, or 20                                 swaps entity;

21                                 “(ii) be in common ownership or con-22                                 trol with any insurance company, securities 23                                 entity, or swaps entity; or

24                                 “(iii) engage in any activity that 25                                 would cause the insured depository institu-

1                   tion to qualify as an insurance company,
2                   securities entity, or swaps entity.

3                   “(B) INDIVIDUALS ELIGIBLE TO SERVE ON 4                   BOARDS OF DEPOSITORY INSTITUTIONS.—

5                   “(i) IN GENERAL.—An individual who 6                   is an officer, director, partner, or employee 7                   of any securities entity, insurance com-8                   pany, or swaps entity may not serve at the 9                   same time as an officer, director, employee, 10                  or other institution-affiliated party of any 11                  insured depository institution.

12                  “(ii) EXCEPTION.—Clause (i) does not 13                  apply with respect to service by any indi-14                  vidual which is otherwise prohibited under 15                  clause (i), if the appropriate Federal bank-16                  ing agency determines, by regulation with 17                  respect to a limited number of cases, that 18                  service by such an individual as an officer, 19                  director, employee, or other institution-af-20                  filiated party of an insured depository in-21                  stitution would not unduly influence the in-22                  vestment policies of the depository institu-
23                  tion or the advice that the institution pro-24                  vides to customers.

1                   “(iii) TERMINATION OF SERVICE.—

2                   Subject to a determination under clause

3                   (i), any individual described in clause (i)

4                   who, as of the date of enactment of the 5                   21st Century Glass-Steagall Act of 2013,

6                   is serving as an officer, director, employee,

7                   or other institution-affiliated party of any

8                   insured depository institution shall termi-

9                   nate such service as soon as is practicable

10                  after such date of enactment, and in no

11                  event, later than the end of the 60-day pe-

12                  riod beginning on that date of enactment.

13                  “(C) TERMINATION OF EXISTING AFFILI-

14                  ATIONS AND ACTIVITIES.—

15                  “(i) ORDERLY TERMINATION OF EX-

16                  ISTING AFFILIATIONS AND ACTIVITIES.—

17                  Any affiliation, common ownership or con-

18                  trol, or activity of an insured depository in-

19                  stitution with any securities entity, insur-

20                  ance company, or swaps entity, or any

21                  other person, as of the date of enactment

22                  of the 21st Century Glass-Steagall Act of 23                  2013, which is prohibited under subpara-

24                  graph (A) shall be terminated as soon as 25                  is practicable, and in no event later than

1 the end of the 5-year period beginning on 2 that date of enactment.

3 “(ii) EARLY TERMINATION.—The ap-
4 propriate Federal banking agency, after 5 opportunity for hearing, at any time, may 6 order termination of an affiliation, common
7 ownership or control, or activity prohibited
8 by clause (i) before the end of the 5-year
9 period described in clause (i), if the agency 10 determines that—

11 “(I) such action is necessary to 12 prevent undue concentration of re-
13 sources, decreased or unfair competi-
14 tion, conflicts of interest, or unsound 15 banking practices; and 16 “(II) is in the public interest.

17 “(iii) EXTENSION.—Subject to a de-
18 termination under clause (ii), an appro-
19 priate Federal banking agency may extend 20 the 5-year period described in clause (i) as 21 to any particular insured depository insti-
22 tution for not more than an additional 6 23 months at a time, if—

24 “(I) the agency certifies that 25 such extension would promote the 1 public interest and would not pose a 2 significant threat to the stability of 3 the banking system or financial mar-

4 kets in the United States; and 5 “(II) such extension, in the ag-6 gregate, does not exceed 1 year for 7 any one insured depository institution.

8 “(iv) REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTITIES
9 RECEIVING AN EXTENSION.—Upon receipt 10 of an extension under clause (iii), the in-11 sured depository institution shall notify its 12 shareholders and the general public that it
13 has failed to comply with the requirements 14 of clause (i).

15 “(D) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this 16 paragraph, the following definitions shall apply:

17 “(i) INSURANCE COMPANY.—The term

2 teristics of a fund that takes on proprietary trading 3 activities or positions;

5 “(7) engage in market-making; or

6 “(8) engage in prime brokerage activities.”.

9 any contract, investment, instrument, or product in 10 such a manner that the purpose or effect of such 11 contract, investment, instrument, or product is to 12 evade or attempt to evade the prohibitions described 13 in section 18(s)(6) of the Federal Deposit Insurance
14 Act, section 21(c) of the Banking Act of 1933, para-
15 graph (Seventh) of section 24 of the Revised Stat-16 utes of the United States, section 5(c)(1) of the 17 Home Owners’ Loan Act, or section 4(a) of the 18 Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as added or 19 amended by this section, shall be considered a viola-20 tion of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, the
